Year's First Baby

Walter Schrader, Sedalia's first baby in 1972, refused to open his eyes for the photographer Tuesday in Bothwell Hospital. Walter was born Monday morning and weighed 9 pounds and 10 ounces.

A sound sleeper, Walter is the fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Schrader, Route 4. The blond-haired new arrival resembles one of his brothers, 13-year-old James, Mrs. Schrader said.

Missourians Want Voice in Tax Hikes

Seventy-five per cent of the Pettis County respondents to a survey conducted by State Sen. Ike Skelton believe the voters should pass on all state tax increases before they become effective.

Skelton, a Lexington Democrat, released the results of his survey Tuesday. He said more than 19 per cent of his constituents in the 10-county 28th District responded, a figure he considered good.

On the tax question, 23 per cent of the Pettis County respondents opposed the idea of a vote, while 2 per cent were undecided. The Pettis County results generally mirrored district opinion in general on the question.

In response to a question on whether the death penalty should be abolished in Missouri, Pettis Countians were nearly evenly split, with 47 per cent saying no and 40 per cent voting yes. Skelton's district as a whole favored retaining the death penalty, 65 per cent to 30 per cent.

A question on whether "busing" should be utilized to transport students across district lines to achieve a better racial balance got a strong negative response in Pettis County, with 85 per cent of the respondents opposing the idea. Only 8 per cent favored it. This was generally the way district respondents answered the question.

Two proposals that would benefit older Missourians were approved by Pettis County respondents. Eighty-three per cent favored a homestead exemption for the elderly to give them property tax relief, and 78 per cent agreed that persons over 65 should get free fishing licenses. The district responses were 75 per cent and 71 per cent in favor, respectively.

Pettis Countians generally agreed with the district as a whole in rejecting the idea of giving state aid to private grade and high schools in Missouri. Sixty-eight per cent of the county responses opposed the idea, while only 30 per cent were in favor.

Other questions and Pettis County responses, with the district responses in parentheses:

"Do you favor additional state money to strengthen local law enforcement?" Yes 78 per cent, no 10 per cent (68 per cent, 26 per cent).

"Should the state spend more money on welfare programs?" Yes 25 per cent, no 67 per cent (yes 18 per cent, no 77 per cent).

"Do you favor spending state money to provide scholarship grants to needy students to attend private colleges in Missouri?" Yes 43 per cent, no 52 per cent (yes 41 per cent, no 56 per cent).

"Should all University of Missouri games be televised since the university is supported by tax funds?" Yes 30 per cent, no 58 per cent (yes 34 per cent, no 55 per cent).

"Do you favor teaching youngsters basic law in the schools to give them the rules of society?" Yes 85 per cent, no 13 per cent (yes 90 per cent, no 7 per cent).

Report School Funding Costs For Committee

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — It would cost about $900 million for Missouri to take over funding of its public school system, the House Appropriations Committee was told today.

The question arose when Rep. R.J. "Bus" King, R-Clayton, asked Dr. Arthur Mallory, commissioner of education, what steps the commission would recommend to the 1972 legislature regarding property tax financing of schools.

King pointed out some Missourians are paying the tax under protest or withholding payments awaiting the outcome of suits testing the constitutionality of property taxation.

He said he understood that money was held in escrow and expressed fear this could have an impact on local Missouri schools.

Mallory said no "stop gap" plan was ready, but the commission has a committee of 50 lay people studying the problem.

Rep. E. J. "Lucky" Cantrell, D-Overland, chairman of the committee, suggested the committee restore $2 million Gov. Warren E. Hearnes cut from the vocational education program by taking it from other programs.

Cantrell theorized the budget recommendation by the governor fulfills the legislative commitment to raise school funds by $35 million although the governor cut $2 million from the commission's request for vocational education.

He said Missouri could attract an additional $2 million in federal dollars in a 50-50 matching fund.

A spokesman for the commission, however, told The Associated Press this was not possible. He explained the federal money, about $14 million, was the amount allocated in a federal formula and the top figure Missouri can receive.

The program last year totaled about $50 million, he said, and the total state and federal dollar was about $20.4 million with local communities contributing the rest.

The commission has asked for a total $466 million in state and federal funds to run the school system of Missouri next fiscal year. The governor recommended about $3.8 million less from state school money funds and general revenue.

Monday, the appropriations committee heard emergency budget requests for money to tide various state agencies over until the 1972 budget goes into effect. Others asked for funds to implement legislation passed last session.

Some requests have the backing of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and are included in his $2.4 million emergency appropriation bill. Others did not.

The Department of Agriculture, for example, told the committee if $50,000 of its emergency request is not restored by the house and senate, seasonal help will have to be cut from the grain warehouse program in Kansas City.

The committee concluded the emergency hearings Monday night.

Council Approves Primary Election

After two delays, the City Council finally voted Monday night to have a city primary election March 7.

The final action wasn't without some confusion, however, as it was decided in the precouncil session to tack a $25 filing fee onto the measure.

When that was suggested, City Counselor Robert Fritz pointed out it would be better to introduce a new ordinance in its entirety.

The original ordinance, already read and tabled at the previous two meetings, died Monday night for lack of a motion for final passage. It was tabled at the last meeting in such a manner as to bring it up automatically Monday night.

The replacement ordinance, which passed with only Second Ward Councilman George Dotson dissenting on each reading as well as the final passage, authorized a primary election for all of the city offices to be voted on by the people in the regular April election. All city offices except four council posts require voter attention this year.

In the precouncil session the council listened to a proposition presented on behalf of Parkhurst Manufacturing Co. by Sam E. Boyle, public relations director for the firm.

Boyle asked the council to consider extending Morgan Avenue from its termination just west of Park to Limit. According to Bill Hall, Sedalia industrial development director, the firm plans to make the adjacent property available to prospective industry and its attractiveness would be enhanced by such action. The main purpose of the extension would be to provide access to Highway 65, it was revealed.

Council discussion brought out that past policy has been for the city to survey and cut roads for grading, while Parkhurst asks that the city also provide a rock surfacing.

Year-old estimates by Robert Cunningham, city engineer, indicate the 2,200-foot-long road would cost $2,050 for the city to survey and cut while the rock surfacing would create an additional $2,505 expenditure. Cunningham said Monday night the costs would probably be about 10 per cent higher now.

If constructed, the road would bisect the southern portion of a 130-acre tract of land presently zoned for heavy industry. Hall said it would allow access to an area which has been difficult to get to in the past. It was also noted the tract has a railroad spur which might be attractive to industry.

It was brought out that difficulty might be encountered in obtaining permission to join the highway.

Boyle said he thought the city would have a much better chance of gaining State Highway Department approval than would a private corporation such as Parkhurst. Hall agreed but later said he wasn't optimistic about the possibility in any case.

Only Fourth Ward Councilman George Lockett indicated support for the project as requested. Concerning the expenditure involved, Carl Franklin of the Second Ward said it wasn't so much the money as the precedent that would be established. Several other councilmen and Mayor Jerry Jones also expressed concern that the action might "come back to haunt" future councils if other companies wanted similar treatment. It was decided to postpone any decision until the matter could be investigated further.

In other action, the council approval the purchase of a new street sweeper from the Victor L. Phillips Co., Kansas City, for $16,672 at the recommendation of the Street and Alley Committee.

Bids were taken on a tractor mower for the Sanitation Department from three local

Introduce Proposal In Missouri House

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A bill to require that an accused person must be tried within 60 days of the time he is charged, if he is in custody or available for trial, was introduced in the Missouri House today.

The state could not ask for a continuance but the defendant could if he could show by affidavit that additional evidence is needed.

Any continuances, however, could not total more than 60 days.

The measure was introduced by Reps. Allan Mueller, D-St. Louis, and John E. Scott, D-St. Louis.

A new Senate bill by Sen. Richard M. Webster, R-Carthage, would set uniform standards for mobile homes and recreational vehicles and put enforcement and inspection under the state commissioner of agriculture.

After Jan. 1, 1974, all dealers and manufacturers of such vehicles would have to comply with the code of the American National Standards Institute. Violations would be misdemeanors.

Ice, Snow Destroys 'Routine'

Monday night and Tuesday Pettis Countians appeared to be avoiding the outdoors like the plague. The continuous snow spray that kept up all through the night and into a good part of the morning accumulated half an inch of ice and snow, making driving, and walking, hazardous.

Those who tried to stay away from slick streets included not only students but also several working men and women who accounted for a significant absenteeism in area manufacturing plants.

All Sedalia schools, both public and parochial, were closed Tuesday. State Fair Community College, which remained open, did not report any cancellation of classes although "a lot of students called in to say they could not come," according to Dr. Joyce Fielding, dean of students. At least 60 per cent of SFCC's students come from areas outside the college district, she pointed out.

Factories that reported absenteeism included Rival Manufacturing Co. and Permaneer Corporation.

About 20 per cent of the Rival shift failed to show up Tuesday morning, according to a plant spokesman. Approximately 6 per cent of Permaneer employes stayed away from work, according to Jerry Jones, personnel manager.

Louis Pabst, 69, a Bothwell Hotel employe, was admitted to Bothwell Hospital Tuesday morning with head injuries after he slipped on ice on the corner of Second and Ohio.

Surprisingly, there were fewer traffic accidents in the present snow storm compared to previous ones. Highways and

Asked if he has gotten used to delivering mail in weather such as Tuesday's, Stansbury laughed and replied, "You never get used to something like this."

Sedalian Has Filed For Post on Council

Ray F. Hendricks, 59, of 1614 West 20th, filed Tuesday morning as a Democrat for councilman from the fourth ward. He will be on the party's ballot in the city primary March 7.

Hendricks was the first candidate to file after the City Council passed an ordinance Monday night calling for the primary election.

The fourth ward will elect one councilman in the spring election to replace Democrat Leo Letourneau, who recently resigned his office after moving out of the city.

Hendricks is secretary-treasurer of Local 206 of the Typographical Union, a position he has held for nine years. He is also president of the Sedalia Federation of Labor.

A Sedalian since 1950, Hendricks has been active in Boy Scout work and is currently secretary of Troop 66, First Christian Church.

Hendricks has indicated he will take "the average man" approach in his candidacy. "I'm serious about this thing," he said. "I think I can represent the people in whatever they want."

Hendricks is an employe of Walker Publishing Co., and is a member of the Sedalia Planning and Zoning Commission.

For Pettis County

Benefit in Status Change

While some taxpayers will have to pay the piper, most Pettis Countians might see a change for the better in their real property taxes when the county moves from third to second-class status.

Pettis County Assessor Jerry Trotter told The Democrat-Capital that the change in status of the county would necessitate a complete reassessment of real property in the county. Trotter speculated this would probably mean a lower tax rate for county taxpayers.

Under state law, a third-class county can be designated second-class when the county assessment totals at least $70 million for five consecutive years. In this context, 1972 will be the fifth consecutive year that tax assessments will run that high here. The actual assessment now is between $74 million and $75 million.

Trotter pointed out that a change in county status was based exclusively on tax assessment figures and not population. Approval for such a change in class can come as early as next year. "It's up to the state when they want to change the status of the county," Trotter said. "I think such a change will be made by state officials when the state auditor recommends it," he added.

Trotter said the usual procedure on reassessment is to have a private firm do it. He estimated this would cost about $140,000 and take a year and a half to complete, with the state paying the cost. "I don't think a reassessment of this magnitude has been made here in 50 years," Trotter said.

Conceding that inequities exist in present assessments, Trotter said that many could not be corrected without an across-the-board reassessment of the entire county. "You can't just reassess a few cases each year and be fair to everybody. Some of the present assessments are so out of line that they are going to have to have a thorough reassessment," Trotter said.

Changing Pettis County to a second-class county level would have considerable effect on the county's governmental structure as well. Changes would include an increase in the salary of county judges from $4,000 to $7,500 plus $1,000 for other duties such as preparing a resume of the yearly activities of county offices, and the court may provide workman's compensation to county officers and employes. Third class counties cannot.

Cut Your Taxes—II

Dependents Question Bothersome

By RAY DE CRANE

You and Internal Revenue Service might not always agree on who is your dependent.

But you had better come to learn the IRS rules. This is one case where ties do not end in a 50-50 split. You always lose.

Consider these examples:

Sally, your 18-year-old daughter, didn't earn a dime last year. She graduated from high school in June. You clothed her, you furnished her housing. She received a steady allowce from you. When she was married in Christmas week you paid all the wedding expenses. Can you claim her as a dependent?

Not if she files a joint return with her new husband, you can't. For that one week of marriage he is entitled to file a joint return with Sally and claim a $675 personal exemption for her.

How about your 21-year-old son, Tom? He was away at college. You paid his tuition, board, lab fees, furnished his clothing and transportation expenses. Tom graduated in June and secured a good job. He continued to live at home and made a modest contribution of $15 a week from his income. Surely, he was a dependent, you argue.

Don't be too sure. You could lose out again. Tom's case requires further information. What did he earn after graduating? And how much of his earnings did he spend in his own support? His $15 weekly contribution to home is not pertinent.

If, for example, Tom earned $5,000 in those 6½ months after graduation and spent it all, he contributed $5,000 toward his own support. Your contributions toward Tom's support must have exceeded his own $5,000 before you could claim him as a dependent.

The hang-up here is the requirement of furnishing chief support for any claimed dependent.

For dependents other than your children — parents or relatives, for example — the rules are much more clear and positive. Once they have gross income of at least $675, you can not possibly claim them as dependents, no matter how much support you furnished.

The only exceptions to the $675 gross income limitation are for your children under the age of 19 by Dec. 31, 1971 or those children 19 and older who attended a full-time school for at least five months of 1971.

While the income test is waived for students and children under 19 the chief support requirement still remains.

Here are some possible solutions:

If Sally's new husband files as a married person making a separate return, you can claim her as a dependent on your return. She is clearly someone's dependent, but you both can't claim her. And the husband has the first choice.

If Tom puts $1,000 of his earnings into his own savings account, this means that he could not possibly have contributed more than $4,000 toward his own support. Now your challenge is to more than match that $4,000 figure.

Watch for these in the case of your dependent children:

If they have savings accounts but your Social Security number is listed on the account you will be liable for reporting the interest earned. Check with your bank or savings and loan on the advisability of listing the youngster's Social Security number. This interest could then become tax-free, since the child need file no return until income is at least $1,700.

If your older children have profitable after-school and summertime jobs, encourage them to put as much as possible into their personal savings account. This minimizes your chore at establishing who furnished chief support.

Gives Guilty Plea In Possession Case

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A 21-year-old Overland Park man has pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and criminal use of dynamite in connection with the August, 1970 discovery of 150 pounds of dynamite in his garage.

Michael H. Boyle entered the plea in Johnson County District Court late Monday afternoon, a few hours after Judge Raymond H. Carr had set Jan. 17 for Boyle's trial on four charges stemming from the incident.

Mark L. Bennett Jr., assistant county attorney, dismissed charges of theft and conspiracy to commit arson after Boyle entered his plea. Bennett also said a misdemeanor charge of possession of marijuana was dropped. Carr asked for a presentencing investigation and set sentencing for Jan. 26.

Accidental Shooting Results in Death

MOUNT VERNON, Mo. (AP) — Bobby Elliott, 21, Raytown, died last Saturday as the result of an accidental shooting, a Lawrence County coroner's jury has ruled.

The jury ruled Monday that Elliott was killed after he and his brother, Ricky, 24, were involved in a family argument in Stotts City, two miles north of Mount Vernon.

Gene Linder, 40, Stotts City, was wounded in the arm during the squabble.

Ricky Elliott was arraigned here Monday on charges of flourishing a deadly weapon in a wild and threatening manner in connection with the incident.

G.E.'s Wilson Is Dead

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Charles Edward Wilson believed that most people who fail to get what they want "don't want it badly enough to do the hard work—there just ain't no golden chariot that will take you there."

Wilson himself worked 60 hours a week and his labors took him from office boy to president of the General Electric Co. and to key posts as the government's industrial mobilizer during World War II and the Korean War.

When he died Monday in Lawrence Hospital at age 85 he held honorary degrees from 21 colleges and universities despite the fact that he had left school after the eighth grade to take that first office boy's job.

Wilson's special gift lay in his ability to solve complex industrial problems, to synthesize the suggestions of associates, brush aside the trivialities and quickly arrive at a decision.

He was often confused with Charles Erwin Wilson of General Motors, who served as secretary of defense under President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Because GM's Wilson was often referred to as "Engine Charlie," GE's Wilson became known as "Electric Charlie."

As head of General Electric, Wilson was making $175,000 a year when President Franklin D. Roosevelt called on him in 1942 to take the $1-a-year post as vice chairman of the War Production Board.

In two years on the board he was able to increase the production of military aircraft to a record 93,369 in 1944, but resigned later that year after a series of disputes with other production board officials.

His performance was so impressive that President Harry S Truman named him director of the Office of Defense Mobilization during the Korean War—with full authority and full responsibility as Wilson wanted.

President Eisenhower picked Wilson in 1956 to be president of the People to People Foundation, which promoted international understanding during the cold war.

In recent years Wilson lived in Scarsdale, N.Y. His wife, Elizabeth, died a year ago.

User of Pills Needs Attention

Dear Dr. Lamb — If a person has taken amphetamines for a long time and then stops, can his memory be affected? If it causes psychiatric effects, what are they and how are they cured?

Don't say go to a psychiatrist. My husband won't let me because he doesn't think anything is wrong with me and he doesn't want the expense of a psychiatrist.

What can I do to help myself? I need help and know it.

Dear Reader— Yes, you do need help. Recognizing that fact is half the battle. Amphetamine belongs to the "speed-up" group, technically known as is commonly called "speed."

These stimulants are useful to combat depression, but that action wears off in a few days after the medicine is taken. They are also useful in combating narcolepsy, repeated sleeping at inappropriate times. Sometimes they are used to help people diet and in treating hyperactive children and senility.

Amphetamine releases a type of adrenalin from the nerve endings and stimulates the brain. This causes the heart to beat faster and harder, nervousness, irritability, insomnia and loss of appetite.

Weight loss is common. So are delusions, hallucinations and even violence. When the use of the drugs is discontinued after prolonged use, severe depressions can occur.

Yes, some researchers state that prolonged use can cause brain damage. Brain cell damage has been described in animal studies and in Japanese men. Japan had an epidemic of overuse of "speed" after World War II, with serious effects on the users. Loss of memory for recent events and other evidences of abnormal thought process occurs.

Some people begin taking these medicines to reduce, and continue them long after any usefulness they might have had in dieting.

I am at a loss to tell you what to do for yourself. I don't know how much you take, how long you have been on the habit or how it has affected you. Obviousiy, the best thing to do would be to see a psychiatrist. If you have been on large amounts of the stuff for a long time, it might even be necessary to be withdrawn under supervision. If you do not have any evidence of severe difficulty and have not been taking them a long time, the best approach would be to taper off and then quit. Physical activity and support from your husband might help. I wish we had an organization like Alcoholics Anonymous for people like you.

If you can't do anything else, write to the National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information, O. O. Box 1701, Washington, D. C. 20013, and see if they can suggest a community service in your area. Another possible source of information would be the American Social Health Assn., 1740 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10019.

Assistant To Bond Resigns

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — An assistant to State Auditor Kit Bond has announced his resignation in order to concentrate on Bond's as yet unannounced bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

David T. Broeker, deputy auditor in charge of internal affairs, said in a statement Monday: "Beginning Jan. 15, I am going to devote full time to the work of the Kit Bond for Governor Steering Committee."

Bond confirmed Broeker had submitted his resignation effective Jan. 15, but said Broeker "will not be operating under my direction."

Bond said he would make an announcement late January or early February—"I'm not sure when"—as to whether he would seek the nomination.

"We'll have to have all the factors before making a final decision," Bond said.

Broeker managed Bond's successful 1970 campaign in the state auditor's race.

Only one candidate has announced for the Republican nomination, Rep. R.J. "Bus" King of Clayton, veteran of more than two decades in the Missouri house.

Among the Democrats seeking the nomination are Lt. Gov. William F. Morris; state Sen. Earl R. Blackwell of Hillsboro; Edward L. Dowd of St. Louis, defeated by Morris in the 1968 lieutenant governor's race, and announced by unfiled candidate Joseph P. Teasdale, Jackson County prosecuting attorney.

Trial Dates Determined In Court

The January term of Circuit Court got under way in Pettis County Monday with the setting of the trial docket.

Don Asbury, charged with stealing more than $50, is scheduled for trial Jan. 21.

Dennis Ray Todd, charged with tampering with a motor vehicle without permission of the owner, is scheduled for trial March 3.

Trial date for Marcheta Kellogg, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, is set for March 14.

Jan. 4 is the trial date for Billy Wayne Denton, charged with second degree burglary and stealing.

John Cavalier, charged with mistreatment of a child, is to appear for trial Feb. 22.

Jack Cooper, charged with molesting a minor, is to appear for trial Jan. 19.

The case of James L. Durley, charged with speeding, which was in Circuit Court on appeal from Sedalia Municipal Court, was withdrawn by City Attorney John C. McCloskey.

Say Wives Could Be 'Accomplices'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Wives who make sandwiches for their husbands' friendly card games may be guilty of promoting gambling under Oregon's new criminal code.

Multnomah County Dist. Atty. Desmond Connall says the code, as he understands it, makes private card games beyond the reach of the law although still technically illegal.

But anyone connected with the game who doesn't play is, according to the code, promoting gambling, Connall said.

So card-playing Oregon husbands apparently will have the choice, after the code goes into effect Saturday, of inviting their wives to join their games or making their own sandwiches.

Careless Parkers Create Pet Peeves

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those people who park their cars at night with little thought of others as they obstruct driveways, etc. When one has to get up very early to drive a long distance to work and finds the driveway blocked, he must knock on doors and awaken others to try and locate the car owner. In case of an emergency, such careless parking could be disastrous. — A. L. B.

DEAR POLLY — Dorothy can easily remove her vinyl tiles by covering each tile with a cloth (I used a dish towel) and heating with a dry iron. Make sure the iron covers a corner of the tile, then use a knife to pry up the warm, softened tile. It took me only 50 minutes to do a 12-by-18-foot room. I thought I had learned this from your column. — JOYCE

DEAR JOYCE — You doubtless did as we had this several years ago but, because of new readers, thought it might be well to repeat the question when Dorothy and others asked it. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Dorothy that workmen from the store where I bought my linoleum covered the old one with plywood, nailed it down and then put new tiles over it. This made a beautiful strong, level floor. — NETA

DEAR NETA and others — The latter method is fine if a professional lays the floor but when doing the job yourself the first Pointer is the easier — I know from experience. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Ordinary clothesline can be used for weather stripping if you paint it after pressing in place. This cotton line can be used in the same way as caulking rope. — MRS. W. A. B.

DEAR POLLY — To avoid the problem of holding a slippery shampoo bottle while in the shower, place three thick rubbers bands around the bottle to provide a good grip. — LINDA L.

DEAR POLLY — Having just moved into a mobile home I have discovered it is very important to have the right item in the right place at the right time.

In my wardrobe closet with folding doors two wooden triangles support the overhead shelf. Along the sloping wood front of one, I put six cup hooks to hold chains, belts, etc. On the other, I placed hooks I had opened slightly so my purse handles would loop over them. On the floor, I have a shoe stand for nine pairs of shoes. While standing in one spot I can select the right dress, purse, belt and shoes. I also put costume jewelry in plastic bags, which are pinned (with plastic clothespins) to the cross bars of dress hangers. — ANATASIA

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Please tell me what can be used to freshen the appearance of the aluminum shelves in my refrigerator. I would like to use some kind of spray or paint on them but want one that does not flake or that might chip off and get on the food. — JEAN

Club Makes Holiday Donations

The Maplewood Homemakers Club provided cash donations of $100 each during the holidays to the Campbell Family fund and the Alice Simmons Meidal Fund as a result of the success of their November Christmas bazaar, according to Mrs. Allen Cusick, president.

Other groups receiving gifts from the club were the Salvation Army, who was given $25 to help buy food for the needy, and Rest Haven Nursing Home who received Christmas gifts.

Getting the Most From Music Lessons

CHICAGO (AP) — Is your son or daughter getting the most out of music lessons? If not—it may not be the child's fault, says a leading musical educator.

"Virtually every normal child is capable of playing a musical instrument for his own pleasure," says University of Illinois Professor Herman H. Slayman. "I'd go as far as to say that 96 per cent of all children—if properly motivated and directed—can make music."

Slayman, who is educational advisor to the American Music Conference, has some advice for parents of frustrated young musicians:

"First, make sure the youngster is playing the instrument he wants—not one you want him to play. One of the main reasons for loss of interest is taking up the wrong instrument. Maybe the youngster finds the violin uncomfortable and could adapt more easily to the cello or bass. Maybe he can't hit the high notes on a trumpet or cornet and the baritone or tuba is the answer. Often a child who has trouble fingering the clarinet has no difficulty with the saxophone."

The educator advises that parents should check the quality of their child's musical instrument too. Playing one that is faulty or deficient would prove to be frustrating.

"Another reason young people become disillusioned with music can be traced directly to the music teacher," Slayman continues. "Occasionally a new teacher or a change from private to group lessons might give the youngster that needed motivational boost."

New Jewelry Designs

From Erwin Pearl's new collection of costume jewelry come the two designs shown above. Flexible owl, left, can be worn as a pendant or a brooch. Stones in the eyes are in turquoise, lapis, jade or cat's-eye. Egyptian bull, right, with heavy chain medallion can also be worn as a pin. (NEA)

Perfection in Costume Jewelry

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Erwin Pearl of Veneto Fifty-Seven is a man who until this year designed only exquisite real jewelry — in a price range that covered all the ground from $200 to $50,000.

And now he has put his creative ability into a collection of costume jewelry that looks just like the real thing. Only the price looks different — from about $13 to $30. "Basically every designer is a ham," Pearl admitted. "He wants applause and gets it when he sees his stuff being worn. Otherwise the job is a rat race."

This new line, Pearl says, is for the women who always wanted real jewelry but couldn't afford it. She alone will know it isn't the McCoy.

Then there is the woman who does wear real jewelry. She can mix up the new line with her good pieces and no one will realize which is the fake.

There are owls, lions, Buddhas and dozens of other unique designs.

"For some of them we even knocked off our own real stuff," he said.

He likes doing the new line because he will reach more people who will enjoy wearing his pieces. It is in department stores and jewelry stores across the country.

"It's fun when you see women wear your designs. And now instead of seeing one it will be 100.

"It took me eight months just to bring out a finish for the jewelry that satisfied me," Erwin said.

"I don't come from another field into jewelry as many other designers do. Our firm is at the top of the jewelry field and we want perfection."

And the finish is beautiful and does look real and the designs are unique. He did exactly what he intended to do. It's a handsome collection.

Kidnapping, Robbery Charges in Incident

WARSAW — Two Sedalia men, Robert Hall, 40, of 1710 South Moniteau, and Carzie Smith, 21, of 510 East Third, were arraigned before Benton County Magistrate Ed Darnell Monday on charges of kidnapping, robbery and felonious assault.

Both Hall and Smith are being held in lieu of $15,000 and $9,000 bond respectively, or $5,000 on each count for Hall and $3,000 on each count for Smith.

The charges stem from an incident early Saturday. Hall and Smith allegedly entered the home of Hall's ex-wife, Betty Byrd, Route 3, Cole Camp, and took a .30-.30 caliber rifle from a closet. In the house at the time were Mike Green, 24, and Ervin Friend, 16. Friend is Hall's step-son.

According to Benton County officials, Hall allegedly entered the room where Green was sleeping and pointed the rifle "right between Green's eyes." Hall moved the weapon slightly to his right and fired. Green sustained powder burns, but escaped serious harm.

As Friend reportedly later told the Benton County sheriff's department, Hall and Smith took $5 or $6 from him while still at the Byrd house. Friend and Green were allegedly taken by force to Sedalia later in Hall's pick-up truck. Once in Sedalia, Hall left Smith and Green at the home of Smith's uncle, Carl Allen, 532 East Fourth. Allen was apparently unaware of the kidnap, according to Benton County spokesmen. "He (Smith) was afraid to do anything around his relatives" said one Benton County deputy, "and Green slipped away."

Meanwhile, Hall had taken Friend to his home. Later Hall took the boy back to the Cole Camp address.

Green later swore out a warrant for the arrest of Smith and Hall. The pair were apprehended Sunday morning in their homes by members of the Benton and Pettis County sheriff's department with the aid of the Sedalia police department, and the Highway Patrol.

A preliminary hearing has been delayed until legal counsel can be obtained for the two men, the Benton County sheriff's department told The Democrat-Capital.

Trickery Is Used In Theft

The third theft by persons using a ruse to obtain money from Sedalia businesses was reported to Sedalia police Tuesday morning.

Fred Evans, co-owner of Pirtle-Evans Grocery, 118 East Main, reported about 8:30 a.m. Tuesday that he had been robbed of an undetermined amount of cash, and that the robbery had been committed sometime Monday afternoon.

Evans told Police Chief Bill Miller that he was unaware of the robbery until he was notified by a customer who had been in the store Monday afternoon. When the customer asked about the robbery Tuesday morning, Evans checked his cash register and found the money missing. At press time Tuesday the amount was not determined.

Evans and Miller checked all of the available information on the events that occurred in the store Monday afternoon and arrived at the conclusion that four persons, two men and two women, were involved.

The four persons used a distraction to take the money from the register. After shopping, but not buying anything for several minutes, one of the women bought a bar of soap, making payment with a $1 bill. As she handed the bill to the cashier, who already had the register open, the woman dropped the bill on the floor.

As the bill was being picked up, one of the men, who was standing nearby, must have taken the money, Miller said. The "customer" failed to notify Evans at the time, causing unnecessary delay in making an investigation.

This is the third time in about a month that businesses on Main Street have been victimized by persons using a similar method of operation — distract the person attending the cash register and then take the money.

The other two businesses victimized were the Pacific Cafe and Rossman's Trading post. In these two incidents two men were involved, and Miller said the descriptions of these two men and the two men involved in the Pirtle-Evans theft are similar.

Arraigned Tuesday

Bobby Copas, 1002 South Massachusetts, charged with passing a forged check, was arraigned in Magistrate Court Tuesday morning and his trial date was set for January 13. The charge involving the passing of a $40 check bearing the forged name of Harold Hill on Nov. 24.

Copas was released after making a $1,000 bond.

Equipment Stolen

Deputy Richard Guymon of the Benton County Sheriff's Department reported Tuesday that several hundred dollars worth of equipment was stolen from a diesel truck at the MFA Implement Co., Lincoln, sometime during the weekend.

Included in the list of missing items are fourteen 20-feet chains, 13 boomers used to tighten the chains, and a fire extinguisher. Also missing was an air conditioner mounted on top of the truck.

Ice, Snow

approach roads in the county are "pretty well ice-covered and snow-packed," Bill Scott, Missouri Highway department's area maintenance supervisor, told The Democrat-Capital Tuesday morning. "The roads will have fair traction for cars if it stops snowing later in the day," he said.

The mixture of salt, calcium chloride and sand that is being sprayed on highways is not doing much good because of the low temperature, Scott pointed out. "The spraying would help if it were 25 degrees or more," he said.

City Engineer Robert W. Cunningham said that between 25 and 30 tons of the de-icing mixture is being sprayed on Sedalia streets. "This is as much as we have sprayed in any one storm," he said.

He pointed out that the Washington overpass at the corner of West Main and Washington has been closed to traffic since Monday night. The old bridge was the scene of a one-car accident during the last major snow storm in December.

The State Highway Patrol said that as of Tuesday morning there were no highway accident reports although driving conditions were poor.

Nearly 200 homes were left without phone service due to the storm, Bob Johnson, manager of the Southwest Telephone Co., said. Several homes in the Walnut Hills area did not have telephone service Monday night, he added. A telephone cable was damaged on 16th street near Walnut Hills. Telephone company crews were expected to have the service restored by 5 p.m. Tuesday, Johnson said.

Thefts Reported To Police

Mrs. George Simmons, 1217 West Main, reported to police Monday afternoon that someone entered her home and took her purse containing $607.62 in cash and checks.

The Simmons operate a boarding home for the aged in their home and Mrs. Simmons had received several monthly checks from the boarders, besides her own Social Security check.

The theft is believed to have taken place sometime between 12 and 2:30 p.m. Monday.

Over $200 in equipment and tires was reported stolen from an open garage behind Fischer Poultry, 1604 East Harvey, over the weekend, according to police officials.

Harold J. Van Booven, 1210 Sue Lane, manager of Fischer Poultry, reported two wheels and tires, valued at $80; an electric drill, valued at $30; one brake bleeder, valued at $40; one suction gun, valued at $10; a 50-foot extension cord, valued at $8; all owned by Fischer Poultry, and four used tires, valued at $40, owned by Van Booven were reported missing.

A wire was apparently used to unlock a car owned by Joe Eschbacher, 1017 West Seventh, sometime early Monday morning, according to police.

An eight track tape player, valued at $59.95, and a wallet valued at $10, were taken from the car.

Eschbacher told police he had parked his car in front of his house shortly after midnight and locked all doors.

Post Office Hit By Runaway Car

HUGHESVILLE — The northeast side of the Hughesville post office was damaged Monday when it was struck by a 1961 Ford driven by John Roy James, 75, Hughesville.

James told the Highway Patrol he had pulled from an alley onto a garage parking lot and attempted to stop when his accelerator stuck, causing the car to hit a post, cross a lawn and strike the north side of the building. The building is leased to the United States Postal Service by John Parkhurst, Hughesville, and Harrell Nicholson, LaMonte.

China Plan Is Explained To Rotarians

Characterizing President Nixon's change in U.S. Far East foreign policy in 1971 as one that took the U.S. from a bland predictable plan of containment, to a role of vitality, distinction and imagination, Dr. Joseph T. Hatfield, professor of social sciences at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, told Sedalia Rotarians Monday that the President's efforts to restore historical friendship with the Chinese people could result in the settlement of many world problems. He spoke to club members at the noon meeting of the organization at Bothwell Hotel.

Dr. Hatfield claimed that this country's efforts would be directed to establishment of a policy of peaceful co-existence as currently exists between this country and the USSR. He also outlined how improvement of Sino-American relations could have good results toward continuing improvement of Soviet-American relations.

He warned that while President Nixon's visit to the Peoples Republic of China in February is an exhilerating departure from the sterile U.S. policy of the last 20 years, it is just a beginning. He pointed out further that while the American people want and demand immediate action, the Asian people think in terms of longer periods in changing policy.

Dr. Hatfield quoted Theodore White, an authority on Asian affairs, who recently wrote, "To hope too much too quickly is not to face reality, yet not to hope at all is worse."

In introducing the speaker, Dean I. L. Peters, of CMSC, told of Dr. Hatfield's service in the Marines in the Asian theater during World War II, of his graduate study in Taiwan under a Fulbright scholarship, and of this connection with the CIA in the Asian field from 1963 to 1970. Dr. Hatfield, Dean Peters noted, is retained as a consultant with that agency in matters concerning the Asian area.

In opening the meeting, Don Barnes, club president, called attention to the Rotary-sponsored travelogue to be shown tonight, at 8 o'clock in the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium. The author and narrator of the film, "Expedition South Pole," will be Albert G. Kerlof.

Mrs. Hugelman Files For Office

Mrs. Frank (Opal) Hugelman, 1003 West Third, filed Tuesday as a Democrat candidate for the post of City Collector.

In filing this year, Mrs. Hugelman will seek a fifth term of that office. She was first elected City Collector in 1964.

Citing the fact that she enjoys the work and likes to meet a good cross section of people, Mrs. Hugelman added that she was also interested in working in the new city hall building.

"I also feel well-qualified to run for the office," she said.

Aging to Meet

The Pettis County Council on the Aging will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Room B-7 at the Federal Building, Fourth and Lamine.

Plans at the meeting include final preparations for a fund-raising luncheon.

Suspects Held For County Authorities

Two persons allegedly involved in obtaining money in the Sedalia area through fraudulent insurance refund claims last August, are being held in Dallas, Tex., for Pettis County authorities.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said Tuesday morning the two persons, Norman Dee Johnson, also known as D. Rae Davis, and Dorene Johnson, also known as Mrs. Rae Davis, were picked up by federal agents in Dallas Monday on fugitive warrants.

The two are wanted in Pettis County on charges of stealing more than $50. The federal warrants of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution were issued by the federal authorities on request of Sheriff Fairfax shortly after the Pettis County warrants were issued in October.

The Norman Johnson charge involves a check for $227, while the Dorene Johnson charge involves a check for $149. Both checks were drawn on the Sedalia Bank & Trust Co.

Fairfax said his department will pick up the two persons and return them to Sedalia to face trial.

Ann Landers

There Is Help For Overweight People

Dear Ann Landers: I want to thank you for the answer you gave the man who was so critical of fat wives. We have recognized alcoholics as people with an illness and in our hearts feel sorry for them and their families but they are no more ill than many people with overweight problems.

I know! For seventeen years I was fat. I went on all sorts of fad diets. I'd lose five pounds and in a month I'd gain fifteen. I hated myself for the way I looked. Buying a dress was torture. I was sure my family didn't love me because I looked like a baby hippo. My love for them or wanting to be a decent size made no difference. I ate incessantly. The more I disliked myself, the more I ate. Nasty remarks, the children's innocent barbs and the uncouth jokes made me eat more.

Then one day I got nerve enough to join Tops. That was less than a year ago. Meeting with people who shared my problem gave me the strength to stick to a sensible diet. Today I am down to the weight set by my doctor and I've been there for six months. I love the way I look. My biggest thrill is when my husband calls me "Skinny." Thank God he loved me enough to stick around.

No one wants to be fat! So the next time you see a fat person, remember this, please. Be compassionate. — Former Fatty

Dear Form: My hat is off to you. And now I'm sure you will want to share your solution with others. I'll help. The address of the National Headquarters for Tops is: Tops Clubs, Inc., 3180 South 27th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53200.

Dear Ann Landers: I am very much in love with a young man who says he is also in love with me, but I think he has flipped his corn popper. He is so moody and unpredictable that it's scarey. One minute he can be sweet as honey, the next minute he is cold, unresponsive and sometimes cruel. If I ask him what's wrong he says, "Nothing, let me alone."

When we have an argument I'm the one who has to apologize, even when he is wrong. I'm afraid if I don't I'll lose him. When we first met he told me he was an oddball and I'd be sorry if I became involved with him. Why didn't I listen? He gave me fair warning. What's the matter with him? — Hooked

Dear Hooked: You know what's the matter with him. He's unstable, unpredictable, and punative. He could also be on drugs. Now, what's the matter with YOU? Why do you tolerate, maybe even enjoy, the punishment? People who remain in situations that are frustrating and painful are themselves oddballs. Get some counseling, honey.

Dear Ann Landers: You goofed when you told the babysitter there wasn't very much she could do about "Mrs. Generosity," a woman who gave her the run-around when it came time to pay up and then stopped calling her. (Stock excuses ... "I don't have change for a $20 —" and "I'll pay you next time —"

There IS something the girl can do to collect her money. Most states have small-claims courts. A teen-age babysitter, with the help of her parents, can take "Mrs. Generosity" to court and get a judgment for the money owed her for services.

It is important that young people be informed about their rights. This would have been a fine opportunity for you to have educated her. How come you didn't? — C. W. Akron Beacon Journal

Dear Ak: I didn't because I wasn't aware of it. I'm glad YOU were, however, and I thank you for calling it to my attention.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's And Don'ts," enclosing with your request 55c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Wages Are Crux Of Dispute

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Striking Local 50 of the Service Employes Union Monday filed charges of wage discrimination against Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis.

The union, which represents about 260 nurses aides, dietary, housekeeping and maintenance employes, called a strike last Friday when contract talks broke down. The key issue is wages.

The union filed the discrimination charges with the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission office in St. Louis. The complaint alleges that female housekeepers and nurses aides are paid substantially less than men who do the same kind of work.

Dan Sorbie, union representative, said female housekeepers get 20 cents less an hour than their male counterparts. He said female nurses aides get 31 cents less than male orderlies, although there is no difference in the degree of difficulty of the work performed.

Sorbie said the situation has existed at the hospital for many years.

Grant REA Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Agriculture has announced a loan of $1,036,000 to the Cuivre River Electric Cooperative at Troy, Mo.

The loan, announced Monday, will be used to construct 37 miles of distribution line to serve 718 new customers.

Kentucky Miners Begin Experiment

JOHNS CREEK, Ky. (AP) — A group of strip mine operators in Kentucky has begun a three-year experiment in developing greenhouse farming on hillside benches, the flat surfaces created by surface mining.

The Kentucky Surface Mining and Reclamation Association has appropriated $4,000 for the project's first year. The funds go to Johns Creek High School in this Pike County town, where a Horticultural class is starting and a greenhouse is being set up to experiment with soils and plants to find out what can best be grown on the stripped land.

The Mexican sombrero represents an all-expenses-paid trip to Mexico City for Mr. and Mrs. Hancock as his reward for reaching a sales volume of more than $1 million.

FBI Is Searching For Stolen Goods

GOLDEN POND, Ky. (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation is searching for a mounted deer head and other exhibits and machines stolen Christmas night from the Land Between the Lakes Museum-Center Station.

Thieves broke a plate glass window and took the deer head, two deer racks or antlers, several mounted birds and small animals, a slide projector and a typewriter.

The FBI was called in because the museum is situated on a federal government reservation.

208 Million People Counted For U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 208 million Americans are on hand for the beginning of 1972, the Census Bureau says.

Census officials said Friday the population increased during 1971 by 2,040,059 to 208,557,735.

The greatest net annual increase was 3,058,000 in 1956, the Bureau said. The rate of gain in 1971 was slightly under 1 per cent, lower than the 1970 rate when an extra 2,239,000 Americans were counted.

The net gain during 1971 was the result of an estimated 3,591,000 births, 1,927,000 deaths and 376,000 added by immigration.

Kansas City Man Arraigned Monday

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Donald E. Steward, 22, Kansas City, has been arraigned on a charge of second-degree murder in connection with last Saturday's fatal shooting of Robert Eugene Kidd, 22.

Steward was bound over to the Jackson County jail Monday after failing to post $15,000 bond. Preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 11.

Billboard Control Deadline Is Close

The 1972 session of the Missouri General Assembly will convene Wednesday, and it's not a day too soon to consider legislation to tighten the state's billboard control laws.

Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has given Missouri until March 31 to enact a billboard law in accordance with federal standards, or lose $11.5 million in matching highway funds in fiscal 1973. Up to $80 million could be lost in such funds over the next five years unless Missouri gets in step.

As of last October, Missouri was one of 19 states which faced loss of federal highway funds because of nonexistent or inadequate billboard control laws. Realizing that Secretary Volpe was serious, 22 states have enacted the required legislation since last February.

What Volpe has finally achieved the means to enforce is the Highway Beautification Act of 1965. Passed with much hoopla and promise, the act was effectively neutralized for six years by Congress' failure to authorize funds to compensate billboard owners whose signs were taken down. Then late in 1970 Volpe got some money, and the word went out—bring down the signs along interstate and primary highways or lose federal funds.

Some Missouri legislators were reported to be openly contemptuous of Volpe's warning, and once again, as in past years, the billboard lobby carried the day in Missouri. No legislation was passed.

In other states, where legislatures were not so reluctant, laws were passed, billboard owners were compensated and the signs began to come down. Roadside panoramas that had been marred for years by signs once again came into view in such states as Maine, Vermont, Wyoming, Oregon, Colorado and Arkansas, to mention only a few.

The same thing can be accomplished in Missouri, whose scenic beauties are equal to any state in the union, if the people demand it. As Secretary Volpe put it:

"Either we're for the environment or we're not. The majestic vistas along our highways belong to the people."

Arabs Mainly Mouth On Starting a War

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Arab leaders disagree, in private, whether to renew hostilities against Israel.

Their most secret conversations, picked up by the Central Intelligence Agency, reveal that Syria's President Hafiz al-Asad holds Egypt's President Anwar Sadat in contempt for threatening an offensive he isn't likely to start.

Even if Egypt should attack Israel, Asad has told associates, "I would not expect too much from the Egyptians." He added fiercely that the Egyptians "will never again pull us into a war and leave us in the lurch."

Next time, he said, the Syrians will be ready. "When the blow comes," he said, "whether Egypt or Israel starts it first, we will seize the opportunity and fight."

The secret intelligence report, telling of Asad's conversation, emphasized that he used the Arabic word "lamma" which means "when," not "if."

His army chief, Gen. Mustafa Talas, is also quoted in the secret cable as telling his military colleagues tersely: "There is no other choice. We must fight and we will fight."

He acknowledged that "all the Arabs combined are weaker than Israel." But he vowed the Syrians, at least, would fight anyway "if not to gain a victory, at least to keep the war case hot between us and Israel."

As he put it: "If the Arabs had continued to fight Israel after their successive defeats in 1948, 1956 and 1967, rather than turning their backs in defeat, many world leaders would have changed their policies toward the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Significantly, Syrian troops and armor have been spotted moving "through Damascus heading south," and the Syrians are reported to be "seriously preparing for new hostilities with Israel."

The Egyptians, meanwhile, have been shouting the loudest about resuming the war. But in private, Gen. Mahmud Tuhami, the Egyptian army's operations chief, has told intimates that "any major attempt at crossing the Suez Canal is bound to fail."

Declares a secret cable: "Tuhami said that President Anwar Sadat, when threatening Israel with an all-out war, was bluffing and ... informed the army of this."

Tuhami suggested that the army might "carry out small-scale commando attacks" but that these raids "would be carefully controlled so as not to cause over-reaction from the Israelis."

The Egyptian high command, he said, was "very concerned that Israel would take advantage of Sadat's threats to carry out a pre-emptive strike which would destroy the Egyptian army and air force."

The U.S. has renewed its efforts, meanwhile, to settle the Arab-Israeli dispute at the truce table rather than on the battlefield. American diplomats have spread the word, according to a secret report, that "we could not be complacent about future Egyptian military moves if no political progress is achieved."

Footnote: The Syrians belittle the Egyptians in private but fight with the Jordanians in the open. Yet an intelligence cable quotes President Asad as commenting wryly "that perhaps the Syrian army would find itself alongside the Jordan Arab army as the only two armies which would fight Israel fiercely."

Ulterior Welcome — Those Welcome Wagons, laden with bounties for new arrivals in neighborhoods across the nation, are under investigation. The Federal Trade Commission has evidence the smiling hostesses, in some cases, have been doubling as private eyes for the business firms whose free gifts they pass out. Some hostesses allegedly have been reporting back the age and make of cars, the condition of carpeting and the financial affairs of the families they visit. Chairman Miles Kirkpatrick has written Rep. Ogden Reid, R-N.Y., that the FTC is looking "into the various practices of Welcome Wagon, Inc." The company has denied that occasional snooping by its cheery, young ladies is company policy.

Top Secret Jokes — When the National Security Agency is not clacking out classified messages in code over its closely-guarded teletype machines, the electronic fare tends to get a little gamy. During a recent slack period, dignified security officials were astounded to see their teletypes rattling out more than 200 words of the vulgar old joke that begins, "Once upon a time there lived a man who had a mad passion for beans ..." The officials discovered that clerks had been telling each other dirty jokes on the secret circuit when it was not being used for transmitting cryptographic intelligence reports.

Strange Economics — The purpose of President Nixon's economic program is to keep costs down. Yet the General Accounting Office recently used the new economic regulations to keep prices up. The National Graphics Corp. of Columbus, Ohio, was low bidder on some government binding and printing contracts. But the company, because of an oversight, had failed to sign a pledge certifying it was in line with the President's economic orders. Its low bid should have spoken for itself. But instead of giving National Graphics a chance to correct its oversight, the GAO gave the contract to the second low bidder at a loss to the taxpayers of $4,500.

PX BLUES– Thre separate surveys taken by the Pentagon, a civilian research firm and the Army itself have turned up widespread dissatisfation with the multi-billion dollar commissary system. The Pentagon study found "customers rated commissary service unsatisfactory." The civilian survey shoed 76.9 per cent of commissary customers wanted a better selection. The Army discovered that, out of eight aspects of military life, the commissaries and post exchanges ranked seventh. Meanwhile, despite revelations of waste and corruption in the system, the generals in charge continue to assure Defense Secretary Mel Laird that all is well.

Dole's Dunning--Sen. Bob Dole, R.-Kans., the brassy Republican national chairman, has sent out letters solicting $50 and $75 contributions for the Senate campaign of his old pal, Sen. Bob Griffin, R.-Mich. But the letters were sent to non-Michigan money men, thus angering other GOP candidates who see the dunning as poacking on their homestate preserves.

Avoiding Sloppy Writing

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

SCRABBLE, VA. — Over the past 12 years, since E. B. White brought forth his revised edition of William Strunk's "The Elements of Style," the "little book," as it was known to Strunk's students at Cornell, has gone into 20 printings and sold more than three million copies. Plainly, somebody out there is interested in the writing art.

Kilpatrick

Now word comes from Macmillan that White has prepared a newly revised version of the work for publication in May. If you happen to write for a living—or if you write merely for pleasure or as an incidental part of your job—you will find new reason in winter to fret for spring. White is our country's finest craftsman with words; and his rules of prose composition are indispensable tools.

White is the master, but some of us who labor at the same trade, after a long apprenticeship, develop a few crotchets of our own. On an idle afternoon, having nothing better to do than to scowl at John Lindsay on the TV tube, I am minded to propose a few additional rules for White's consideration.

Rule 1. Never, under any circumstances, refer to children or to young adults as "kids." The writer who falls into this puerile device is the same writer who announces that he wants to go to the little boys' room

Rule 2. Remember that "replica" has a precise and useful meaning. It is a copy of an original work prepared by the original creator thereof. The word ought not to be abused. Try, instead, copy, model, reproduction, duplicate, or facsimile.

Rule 3. Do not, when it can be avoided, use "since" in a causal construction. The problem here is that "since," like "while," telegraphs an instant connotation of time passing. The reader launches into a sentence beginning, "Since it rained," and his inner ear tunes itself for a principal clause telling us what happened in the time span thereafter. His ear is thus affronted when the sentence concludes, "we called off the picnic." There is nothing wrong with "because." It is an honest timber, capable of bracing a sentence.

Rule 4. Never, as you hope for heaven hereafter, write that something "remains to be seen." This is the certain mark of the empty but portentous writer. He has run out of conclusions, if he any to start with, and takes refuge in a cop-out. It has not occurred to him that beyond this particular split-second, everything remains to be seen.

Rule 5. When you are tempted to write that a forthcoming event or decision is "all-important," think twice. Then think twice again. Think three more times. Then strike it out.

Rule 6. Remember that A.M. means before noon, and P.M. means after noon, and do not write that "On Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., Major R. E. Joyce will give a lecture." That horrid example, alas, comes from White himself. Even our Homer nods. The major will speak on Tuesday at 8 p.m., or on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, but we do not need to be told that the major will speak on Tuesday evening at 8 in the evening.

Rule 7. If you find that you have stumbled into an "and which" construction, stop and start over. "The bad snap from center, which cost the Redskins the ballgame and which catapulted the 49'ers into the playoffs, came with 3:42 remaining in the final period." Either exorcise the second which, or recast one sentence into two.

Rule 8. Do not suppose that the "lion's share" means the greater part; the lion's share is the whole works.

Rule 9. Do not use "pinch hitter" when you mean replacement.

Rule 10. Remember that things are not divided between two persons; they are divided among three or more.

All this has nothing to do with politics, government, or law, but perhaps a writer can be forgiven if now and then he writes about writing. It beats writing about John Lindsay. After all, a man can take writing seriously.

There seems to be very little rest in this world. The weather has only just become cold enough for a man to be able to take a girl out to walk and pass an ice cream saloon with a sense of security, when they begin to hold church festivals at the rate of six a week, and unless he attends them all and buys a worsted tidy and a couple of bed lamp mats and takes four chances on an indigestible pound cake, he is generally regarded as a dangerous character, with a tendency towards atheism.

Pure ocean water has a blue color because salt water does not absorb the blue rays of sunlight as it does the red rays. The World Almanac says that the Mediterranean is quite blue because there are few large rivers carrying impurities into it, and there is a constant stream of salt water entering it from the Atlantic.

State-of-the-Humor Report Made

WASHINGTON — My Fellow Americans,

I am happy to report to you today on the State of Humor in the United States: 1971 was a watershed year for humor in this country.

Buchwald

The GNL (Gross National Laughter) in America rose by 3.2 per cent. Most of this could be attributed to the Good News - Bad News jokes which picked up in the last quarter of the year.

There was a marked drop-off in Polish and Italian jokes, and they will probably be recycled and aimed at another ethnic group.

Politically, 1971 was not a GREAT year for humor, but you could call it a good year. Spiro Agnew, Martha Mitchell and Henry Kissinger provided 74.3 per cent of the political humor, with President Nixon accounting for only 10 per cent.

Former President Johnson, former Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Edward Kennedy were responsible for less than 5 per cent of the political laughs.

I am sorry to report there was not one joke made at the expense of Sens. Muskie, McGovern and Jackson during the entire year, though heaven knows their staffs tried.

New York was still the biggest joke as far as a city went, and most of the credit for this can go solely to the efforts made by Mayor John Lindsay.

Los Angeles came in second, but no one has laughed at Chicago since the Democratic National Convention.

TV football was one of the main sources of family humor, though very few women laughed about it. Howard Cosell became the Comedian of the Year, accounting for an amazing 66.5 per cent of the laughs on television, thanks to his two straight men, Don Meredith and Frank Gifford.

College students were laughing more in 1971 than in 1970, but youth on the whole contributed very little to the Gross National Laughter factor in the country.

Youth was also responsible for cutting down laughter among adults, mainly because it was impossible for grownups to laugh when their children were in the same room.

What do I predict for 1972? Since it is a presidential election year we can expect an escalation in political humor. Every candidate will be obligated to warm up his audiences with good, homey, self-deprecating jokes which will show what a good guy he is.

This humor, which comes painfully to every one of the presidential candidates in both parties, could put the country into a humor recession which they may not get out of until 1976.

We can expect a tremendous number of Chinese jokes just before and just after President Nixon's visit to Peking, most of them having to do with the President's laundry.

We can look forward to the same amount of production of Jackie Onassis jokes, wage-price freeze jokes, American dollar jokes and married priest jokes that we had in 1971.

As for new jokes, we have to wait for President Nixon's State of the Union message later this month.

But I am very bullish about humor for 1972, mainly because I feel that if Americans could laugh after what they have been through during the past 12 months they can laugh at anything, any time.

South's jump to three no-trump was slightly unsound opposite his partner's weak two-club overcall, but South had no idea that his partner's hand was that weak. In addition, South had great confidence in his ability to play the dummy.

He started by putting up dummy's queen of diamonds. Then he entered his hand with a heart and led four of clubs. West played low and South jumped up with dummy's king. When it held South was home free. He abandoned clubs and took the spade finesse.

West was in with the king and cleared the diamonds, but he was too late. South collected three tricks in each major suit plus two diamonds and one club for his game.

"Nice play," said West.

"Chucked," said East. "West should have gone right up with his ace of clubs and beaten the contract."

East was wrong. South would still make his contract if West had played the club ace. West's best defense would be to play diamonds. South could take his ace now or hold-up one.

Then he would lead his last club. West would have to play low and the trick would be ducked to East's jack. East's best play would be a spade, but South would refuse the finesse and make his nine tricks with one spade, three hearts, two diamonds and four clubs.

Big 8 IS Strongest

Huskers, Sooners, CU Rated 1-2-3 in Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Big Eight is the toughest conference . . . no contest," crowed Nebraska's All-American middle guard, Rich Glover, after the Cornhuskers demolished Alabama 38-6 in the Orange Bowl New Year's night.

And the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters who vote in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll apparently agree, because they voted Big Eight teams to the top three places in the final poll of the 1971 college season.

Nebraska, of course, took the top spot, garnering all 55 first-place votes for a perfect score of 1,100 points. Nebraska's rout of previously unbeaten Alabama completed a 13-0 season for Coach Bob Devaney's Cornhuskers.

Oklahoma, 11-1 with the only loss come at the hands of Nebraska 35-31 Thanksgiving Day, was a unanimous choice for the runner-up spot with 990 points after whipping Auburn 40-22 in the Sugar Bowl.

A third Big Eight team, Colorado, captured third place with 746 votes after defeating Houston 29-17 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl. Colorado's only defeats in a 10-2 season were to Nebraska and Oklahoma.

No conference had ever swept the top two spots in the poll, but the Big Eight went 1-2-3.

It was the second consecutive national championshp for Nebraska, a team which has won its last 23 outings and has gone 32 games without a loss.

Nebraska is only the sixth squad to win consecutive crowns. The others were Minnesota in 1940-1, Army in 1944-5, Notre Dame in 1946-7, Oklahoma in 1955-6 and Alabama in 1964-5. No team has ever won three in a row.

Alabama collected 674 points to nose out Penn State for the fourth spot in the poll. The Nittany Lions, 30-6 victors over Texas in the Cotton Bowl, jumped from 10th to fifth with 666 points.

Michigan dropped from fourth to sixth with 479 points after losing to Stanford 13-12 in the Rose Bowl. Georgia, 7-3 victors over North Carolina in the Gator Bowl, took seventh place with 471 votes.

Rounding out the Top Ten were No. 8 Arizona State, 45-38 winners over Florida State in the Fiesta Bowl, 414 points; No. 9 Tennessee, 14-13 victors over Arkansas in the Liberty Bowl, 379 points, and No. 10 Stanford Rose Bowl champions, 347 points.

Despite trouncing Iowa State 35-15 in the Sun Bowl, Louisiana State could not climb above 11th place, while Auburn dropped to 12th after being crushed by Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl.

Notre Dame retained the 13th spot, followed by unbeaten Toledo, Mississippi, Arkansas, Houston, Texas, Washington and Southern California.

Mistakes Cost SFCC Victory

By VAUGHN HART
Sports Editor

KANSAS CITY — The trip to Kansas City for the State Fair Community College Roadrunners was a long one for Monday night's game between SFCC and Penn Valley Community College, due to the weather. But the return trip was even longer for head Roadrunners' coach Bill Barton after he saw his cagers fold in the late minutes and drop a 97-83 decision to the Scouts.

The loss completely overshadowed Jimmy Lassiter's record-shattering performance as the 6'3" freshman guard-forward from Freedom, Pa., tossed in 24 points to become the all-time, single-season scoring leader for State Fair.

Lassiter's 24 points toppled John Nelson from that post. Nelson scored 314 points during the 1969-70 campaign, but Lassiter's 24 points gave him the lead in that category with 317.

The game itself brought back some memories of what James Naismith, the man who invented basketball, may have faced when he nailed up his wooden baskets in Springfield, Mass., back in 1891.

Monday's game was played in St. John's Seminary where the temperature was so cold that assistant SFCC coach Foster McGuire even wore his overcoat during some of the second half. Snow was blowing into the building through a door on the west side of the building, only 15 feet from the playing surface.

But to top off everything, the clock only showed the score, not the time. One of the scorekeepers had to keep yelling to the two benches, telling the coaches how much time was left in the game.

Barton will be the first to admit that you have to win under adverse conditions many times — but modern man can take only so much.

Both teams were about as cold from the field early in the game as the temperature registered inside the gymnasium, but with 14:05 (or there about) guard Duane Kraettli gave the Roadrunners their biggest lead of the game, 13-8, on a tip in.

Things steadily got worse for SFCC and they gave up their margin about five minutes later, when Melvin Harvey canned one from 15 feet, that pulled Penn Valley in the lead, 22-21.

The Scouts got the momentum swinging to their side of the court and built up an eight-point, 33-25 lead, with 4:40 left in the half.

Kevin Arand, however, knotted the score at 41-41 with :10 left in the opening half. But Donald Stevenson sank a shot from deep in the corner with only :01 to go and the Scouts carried a 43-41 lead into the dressing room.

The Roadrunners, who actually lost the game themselves, committed 15 turnovers alone in the opening half and saw Penn Valley sneak around their screens on the defensive boards to get more than one shot at the basket.

To top things off, starters Myles Yates and Jimmy Lassiter missed much of the first 20 minutes of play, each being charged with three fouls.

Penn Valley was able to build up a pair of six-point margins in the opening 10 minutes of play in the second half, but Myles Yates pulled SFCC ahead, 64-63, with 9:20 to go.

From that point until 3:28, when Lassiter fouled, the lead switched hands seven times.

With the Roadrunners behind 81-78, Lassiter was charged with an offensive foul and took a seat on the bench to watch the rest of the game with Barton and his substitutes.

That was about all the Scouts needed. They also got help from Kenneth Niemann and Melvin Harvey, who canned a pair of back-to-back three point plays at 2:33 and 2:20 respectively.

The Roadrunners made even more mistakes in the second half than they did in the opening period of play, committing 18 turnovers for a total of 33 in the game. Eighteen of those were charged to guards Kraettli, Arand and Brent Yates.

The Roadrunners hit the better percentage from the field (28 of 57), while Penn Valley hit on 35 of 80.

Fouls played a big role in the game; State Fair was charged with 25, while Penn Valley picked two more than that in the contest.

From the free throw line, State Fair hit 27 of 44; Penn Valley picked up 23 points from the charity stripe.

Barton, who said this was one of the most upsetting losses he has ever suffered, was planning some hard practice sessions between now and Friday, when SFCC hosts Hannibal LaGrange.

Lassiter was the leading scorer for State Fair with his 24-point production, 20 of which came in the second half.

Game scoring honors went to Harvey, who shelled in 28; Stevenson added 24 more.

Third in a series—Jeff Kinney, left, of Nebraska, his torn jersey exposing his shoulder pads, almost gives up his shirt in the biggest college game of the year, when the Cornhuskers met Oklahoma, Nov. 25, in Norman, Okla. Larry Roach trips him up on the play. It was the closest call Nebraska had all year as they ended up as the top college team in the nation coming back to down the Sooners, 35-31.

Hint USAC May Return To Sedalia

It has been confirmed by the office of the Secretary of the Missouri State Fair that Andy Granatelli, president of the STP, Corp., is interested in holding a United States Auto Club championship dirt race on the Missouri State Fairgrounds' one-mile track sometime this summer. All probabilities point toward a date in July.

Wilbert C. Askew, the Missouri State Fair secretary, said Monday afternoon when asked by The Democrat-Capital sports department, that agents from Granatelli's office had contacted him about using the State Fair oval for a race.

Askew felt that the agents were pointing toward a date that would not conflict with some of the things that confronted J. C. Agajanian, who promoted three races here between 1969 and 1970. Two of Agajanian's races were held after the college football season opened. Agajanian felt that this held down the race crowds at his events.

Agents said, according to Askew, that they would be in personal contact with him sometime this month to present their plans.

Askew commented that many of the drivers, who participated in the first championship dirt race here in 1970 liked the track and they wanted to know if it would be possible for one of the promoters to set up another event.

The tentative United States Auto Club schedule (dated Nov. 18, 1971) for the upcoming season, currently shows only six championship dirt race dates. Those dates include Indianapolis, Ind., May 7; DuQuoin, Ill., May 28; Springfield, Ill., June 18; Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20; DuQuoin, Ill., Sept. 4, and Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 9.

There is more than a two-month layoff according to the initial issue of the schedule between June 18 and Aug. 20. Granatelli could be pointing toward a race date around the Fourth of July.

If plans are finalized, it would mark the fourth time in recent years that USAC has used the Missouri State Fairgrounds' facility.

Previously, Agajanian presented two stock car division races and one championship dirt car race here.

None of the races, however, drew many people and a random survey of racing fans in the central-Missouri area agreed that both the dates they were held (late in the season) and the price of the tickets were the main factors in the lack of persons in the stands.

Breakup Biggest Enemy

Rate NU Strong Choice for No. 3

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Can Nebraska's Cornhuskers, having won two straight national football championships, make it three in a row?

No team has ever earned the triple crown, but Nebraska will have to be considered a strong contender when another season opens in September.

Eleven of the 22 starters on offense and defense, who punished Alabama 38-6 in an Orange Bowl showdown New Year's night, will be lost by graduation, but a solid nucleus of sophomores and juniors remains.

The severest blow, although not anticipated, would be some kind of a breakup of the coaching staff, a winning combination headed by Bob Devaney.

Professional teams are known to have eyed Devaney, and the coach is hanging loose.

"I wouldn't shut the door on a change," he said recently when queried on the subject. "If some (pro) club came up with a good offer, and if it had a good chance to win, I'd listen."

Insiders believe Devaney would hesitate, however, to break up a coaching team which includes three aides — Mike Corgan, John Melton and Carl Selmer — who have been at Denvaney's side for 15 years, and another, Jim Ross, whose association with Devaney totals 26 years, including 11 at Alpena, Mich., high school.

The undefeated Huskers returned from Miami Monday to be greeted by 12 degree temperatures, blowing snow and about 275 hardy fans.

Devaney and several top players ware not in the traveling party, having scattered to participate in post-season all-star games. Devaney will coach the North team in Saturday's Hula Bowl game in Hawaii, where his players will include Quarterback Jerry Tagge, I-back Jeff Kinney and offensive guard Dick Rupert.

Tagge, Kinney and Rupert, along with all-American defensive tackle Larry Jacobson, will be among the standouts lost by graduation.

But holdovers include flanker Johnny Rodgers, All-America middle guard Rich Glover, and defensive end Willie Harper, all juniors this year.

Ten of the 44 players on the two top offensive and defensive units are sophomores, 17 are juniors, and 17 are seniors.

Waiting in the wings to take the place of departing quarterback Tagge and his backup signal caller, Van Brownson, are a pair of touted rookies, David Humm and Terry Luck.

Humm, of Las Vegas, Nev., was one of the ardently recruited prep graduates in 1970, lived up to his billing as a freshman but was withheld from action this season to preserve a year of eligibility.

Luck, a 6-3, 208 pounder out of Fayetteville, N. C., led the freshmen to a 4-0 season last fall as the leading scorer, leading passer and total offense leader.

Even given another outstanding 1972 season, the Huskers will be hard put to match the 13-win 1971 season. Twelve of the wins were fashioned with margins ranging from a high of 55 points, a shutout of Kansas, to a low of 24 points, 31-7 over Colorado. Only second ranked Oklahoma played the Huskers close, 35-31.

Nebraska will begin the 1972 season with a string of 32 games without defeat, 23 consecutive wins.

Coach Devaney has not had a losing season at Nebraska. His worst were 6-4 season in 1967 and 1968.

Thomas Actions Very Puzzling

DALLAS (AP) — Duane Thomas yanked his jersey off in the dressing room and looked his questioner square in the eye: "Man, don't ever try to interview me after a game."

This was after Thomas had scored a touchdown on a two-yard run Sunday to help Dallas to a 14-3 National Conference title victory over San Francisco.

This is the way it has been since Thomas rejoined the team after a stormy dispute with management over money that ran well into the regular season.

"We've come to accept him as he is," says Coach Tom Landry.

Landry went to great lengths Monday to explain Thomas' attitude to reporters but admitted "I don't know if I can enlighten you."

Landry said, "He is a unique person. His sole object is to be prepared to play football. He does it his own way. He doesn't like any distractions. At meetings he says maybe two words. He seldom is not ready to play . . . he listens . . . he doesn't ask many questions."

This comes from a man Thomas called "a plastic man . . . no man at all" in a July tirade.

Landry said, "Thomas acts as if he is not part of the team but he is part of the team. The team has to understand him and I believe they do. We've never asked him why he doesn't talk to reporters or sign autographs."

"The team wants to understand him," Landry added.

Mullaney, Anderson To Coach All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Mullaney of the Kentucky Colonels and LaDell Anderson of the Utah Stars were officially named Tuesday as the coaches for the American Basketball Association All-Star game in Louisville on Jan. 29.

Mullaney, whose team has a commanding lead in the Eastern Division, will coach the East club while Anderson will coach the West after leading the Stars to a runaway lead in that division.

The Coaches of the teams leading each division by Dec. 31 automatically earns the all-star coaching honors.

Warren Is Traded In Six-Player Deal

Memphis, Tenn. (AP) — "I could have sworn I was dreaming when he told me I was traded," reflected Bobby Warren, leading scorer of the Memphis Pros of the American Basketball Association, who was part of a six-player deal between Memphis and the Carolina Cougars Monday.

The Cougars will get Warren, all-star Wendell Ladner and rookie Thomas Owens in return for starters Warren Davis and George Lehmann and rookie Randy Denton.

There was reportedly also some cash involved in the deal, but the amount was not disclosed.

Chones' 31 Sets Pace For Marquette Victory

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer

At Marquette they call Jim Chones "Big Man"—and for good reason.

The 6-foot-11 Chones scored a career-high 31 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead second-ranked Marquette 9-0, to a 72-60 victory over arch-rival Wisconsin.

"It was Jimmy's best game ever—by a ton," raved Marquette Coach Al McGuire, appreciative of his pivotman's performance. "I think Jimmy's off to the races now."

Wisconsin Coach John Powless could only agree.

"Chones is the best big man in the country," Powless said flatly. "He figures to get 20 or 25 against anybody if he plays hard."

Powless tried a combination man-to-man and zone defense, to no avail. "The defense we were playing was to try to disallow or limit the pass to the high post, because Chones can just turn around and pop from there."

It didn't work.

Chones hit on 12 of 20 field goal attempts, many from the high post. And when everybody ganged up on "Big Man," it left sophomore Marcus Washington free to drive the baseline from his corner post. Washington scored 19 for the game.

Two other members of the Associated Press' Top Ten had to come from behind in the second half to win.

Ninth-ranked Virginia, trailing 57-51 with eight minutes to go, outscored Wake Forest 17-3 in the next seven minutes to register a 74-64 Atlantic Coast Conference victory at Wake Forest.

Virginia, 10-0, pulled ahead 59-58 with 5:24 to go on a pair of free throws by Frank DeWitt. Barry Parkhill of Virginia led all scorers with 20 points and teammate Jim Hobgood added 17.

No. 10 Ohio State, down by seven with 12 minutes to go, outscored Creighton 18-4 and went on to post a 94-76 victory.

Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor was pleased with his team's 57 points scored in the second half.

"We played the other night and scored only 53 points the whole game," Taylor noted, referring to his team's 79-53 pounding at the hands of top-rated UCLA. "This will help all the kids to know we can bust loose."

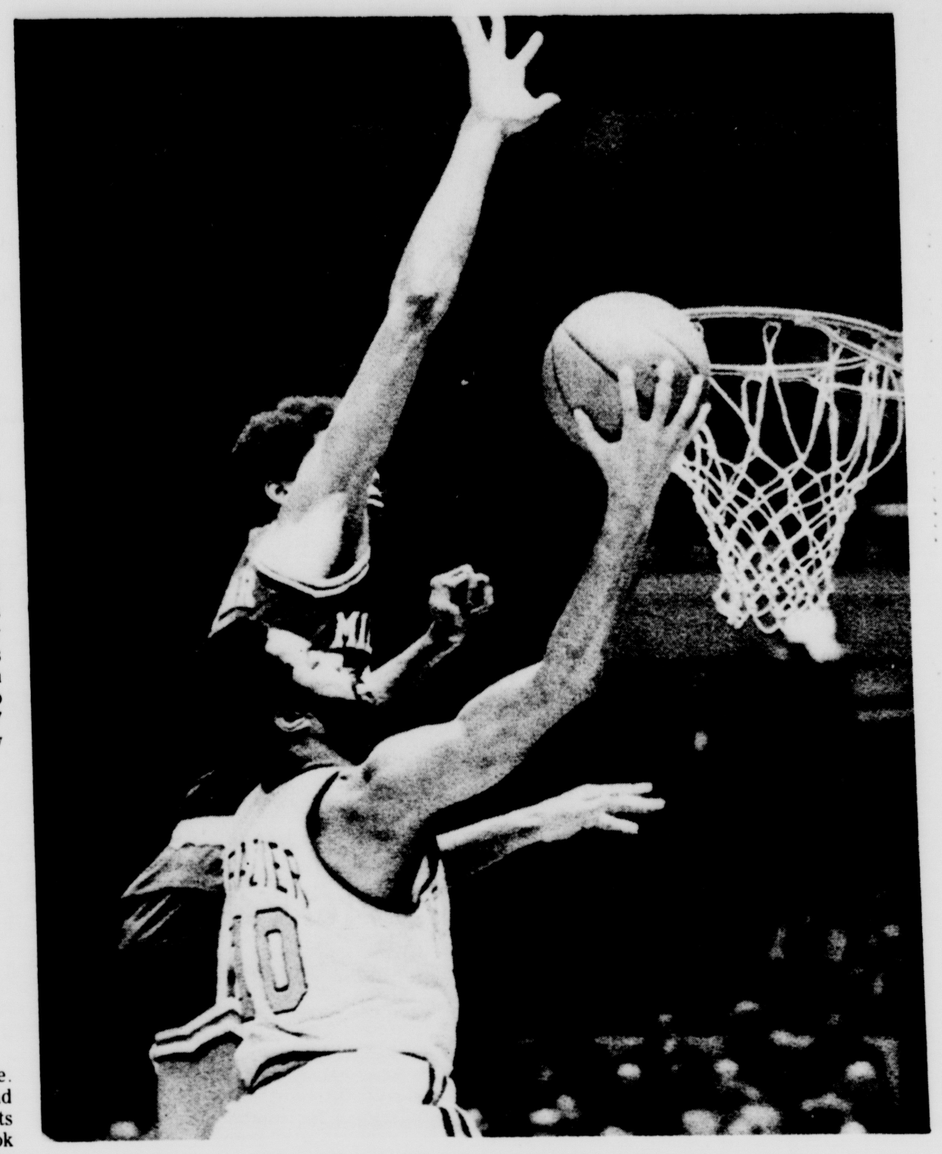
One kid who busted loose for the Buckeyes was 6-1 guard Allan Hornyak, who led all scorers with 26 points. Hornyak scored 15 and reserve Jack Wolfe added 10.

In other major games Tuesday night, No. 15 Southwestern Louisiana outscored McNeese 89-80 behind 32 points from 6-9 soph Roy Ebron and 25 from Dwight Lamar.

Ron King scored 24 points to help No. 20 Florida State to an 88-70 triumph over Denver in the first round of the Senior Bowl basketball tournament. In the other first round pairing, St. Louis whipped South Alabama 78-61.

Elsewhere, Wichita State edged Bradley 71-67, Dayton upset Houston 73-69, sophomore Lloyd Batts scored 27 points to lead Cincinnati past Drake 81-78, Tulsa got 30 points from Steve Bracy and coasted past Trinity, Tex. 98-70 and Iowa tripped Kansas 81-68.

Also, 6-8 Marv Barnes scored 28 points and pulled down 21 rebounds as Providence defeated the Australian Nationals 75-64, Vanderbilt spoiled the opening of Louisiana State's new $11.5 million Assembly Center by defeating the Tigers 80-73, Ronnie Hogue and John Fraley scored 28 points each to lead Georgia past Rollins 112-77 and Texas-El Paso topped New Mexico State 75-59.



Kaaaaaareeeeemmmmm

Kareem Jabbar (33) of the Milwaukee Bucks, goes high in the air to block this shot by New York's Walt Frazier during their National Basketball game, Monday night, in New York. Although unsuccessful on this attempt, Frazier sank a 15-foot jumper with only three seconds to play to give the Knickerbockers a 101-99 victory over the Bucks. (UPI)

Late Frazier Shot Gives NY Knicks 101-99 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Frazier, a neutral observer, believes the Milwaukee Bucks, defending champions of the National Basketball Association, are better than the Los Angeles Lakers, the league's hottest team with 31 consecutive victories.

"I'll take the Bucks," said Frazier Monday night after he had sparked the New York Knicks to a 101-99 comeback victory over Milwaukee in a nationally televised game.

"They won the title last season," continued the veteran guard, "and the Lakers have a bad track record," a reference to Los Angeles' playoff performances in recent years.

"I don't think they can maintain their current pace," he added. "They've got to hit a slump, sooner or later."

At present, neither the Lakers nor Frazier show any signs of slumping. The Knicks' star has scored 20 or more points in 17 consecutive games, including 31 against the Bucks.

The Knicks-Bucks battle was the night's only NBA game.

In the lone American Basketball Association contest, Dallas overcame a 15-point deficit and edged Indiana 102-101 behind Donnie Freeman's 21 points. Roger Brown led the Pacers with 27.

Frazier started slowly against Milwaukee, hitting only one of seven field goal attempts in the first half. It was no coincidence that the Knicks fell behind 24-9 in the first period and trailed 53-46 at halftime.

Frazier tallied nine points in the third quarter, but the Knicks still trailed 77-72 at the end of the period. Then, in the final period, he scored 16 points, including the Knicks' last 13 and the basket that broke a 99-99 tie with three seconds remaining.

The winning field goal was the only time the Knicks led and came after New York's Phil Jackson had swatted the ball away from Milwaukee's Oscar Robertson and Frazier had retrieved it.

After Frazier's shot, the Bucks had one more chance. Kareem Jabbar, who had game-high totals of 38 points and 22 rebounds, took a hook shot, but the ball hit the rim and bounded away as the final buzzer sounded.

Milwaukee then rushed at the officials, Ed Rush and Mike DiTomasso, claiming Jabbar was fouled. But the Bucks' protestes were to no avail.

UCLA Stays on Top

Penn, Louisville Up Eight Spots

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tournament triumphs have provided a bull market for Penn and Louisville, pushing their stock way up in the college basketball polls.

Penn, winner of the Kodak Classic last week, lunged ahead eight places to No. 6 and Louisville, a runaway victor in the Holiday Festival, also moved up eight spots to No. 7.

UCLA, meanwhile, continues in its familiar strongman role of No. 1 after winning its own Bruin Classic.

A nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters almost made it unanimous, handing the Bruins 41 first-place votes. Marquette, which won the Milwaukee Classic, got the only other top ballot and finished second in the voting, same as last week.

The Bruins collected a total of 838 points to the Warriors' 816, shaving the top-ranked team's lead from 48 last week.

North Carolina, winner of the Sugar Bowl Tournament, stepped up one place to No. 3 with 830 points. South Carolina, which lost the Quaker City Festival, moved back one spot to No. 4 with 443.

Indiana, champion of the Old Dominion during the tournament-happy holiday week, moved up two spots to No. 5 with 362 points.

After Penn and Louisville, Long Beach State held down No. 8 after winning the International City Classic; Virginia was No. 9 after taking the Palmetto Classic and Ohio State dropped four spots to No. 10 when beaten by UCLA in the Bruin finals.

Southern Cal, whipped in the Kodak by Penn in the first round, skidded six spots to No. 11 and both Maryland and Marshall moved up four spots to Nos. 12 and 13, respectively. Maryland won the Maryland Invitational and Marshall lost by two points to Marquette in the Milwaukee.

Villanova, which beat South Carolina by a point for the Quaker City Title, moved from nowhere to No. 14.

Southwestern Louisiana dropped two spots to No. 15 despite whipping Los Angeles State; Hawaii climbed two to No. 16 after winning the Rainbow Classic and St. John's, N.Y., dropped eight spots to No. 17 after losing in the finals of the Maryland Invitational.

Brigham Young, which lost in the Old Dominion, slumped eight places to No. 18; Kentucky fell seven spots to No. 19 and Florida State was No. 20.

Camdenton, Osage Win Openers

(Democrat-Capital Service)

VERSAILLES — Osage and Camdenton weathered slick roads and near-blizzard conditions and posted first-round wins in the Versailles Invitational Basketball Tournament Monday night.

Second-seeded Osage handled seventh-seeded Stoutland, 78-56, but third-seeded Camdenton had to come from behind in the fourth quarter to whip Tipton, 68-65.

Trailing 53-47 as the final stanza opened, Camdenton rode the scoring of Lee Jefferies, Mike Freeman and Paul Long as the Lakers outscored Tipton 21-12 in gaining the win.

Jefferies was the game's leading scorer with 28; Freeman and Long checked in with 17 and 14 in that order.

Jim Thomas and Dan Bestgen shared the scoring honors for the losing Cardinals with 22 each.

Oliver Costello, Danny Wickham and Ted Vernon all hit in double figures as Osage rolled past Stoutland. Costello popped in 24 to capture the game's individual honor; Wickham and Vernon added 22 and 18 in that order.

Steve Burns was high for Stoutland in the loss with 22.

Monday night's other first-round contest between Cole Camp and Versailles was rescheduled for Tuesday night at 6 p.m. Two other games were also set for Tuesday night, one of which pits first-seeded Eldon against the Smith-Cotton junior varsity. That game will be played at 9 p.m. Tipton and Stoutland are slated to meet in a consolation semifinal contest at 7:30 p.m.

Coach David Porter of the S-C junior varsity squad said Monday that his starters would include 6'4" John Butler on the post; Keith Crowder, along with either Rick McRoy or Marvin Spurell will be in the back court, while Dan Knievel will team with either Ken Sellers or Mike Boggs at the forward positions.

Butch Cassidy, Sundance Kid: Miami Legend

MIAMI (AP) — The legend of Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid has spread to the Super Bowl.

"In the somewhat gruesome, even blood-thirsty world of pro football," said Sundance, "we go more for playing the game for enjoyment."

Sundance is 237-pound fullback Larry Csonka. Butch is Jim Kiick, his 215-pound running mate in the Miami Dolphins' backfield.

"We're a couple of guys who seldom show how serious we are," said Csonka. "So, after the movie about Butch and Sundance became so popular, we were likened to the screen pair."

The Miami Herald dressed Csonka and Kiick in 19th Century finery for a portrait that graced the cover of the newspaper's preseason football section.

An automaker liked the pose and contracted the Dolphin aces to dress up again for a television commercial.

Dolphin fans went wild about their heroes and the Herald began selling color copies of the portrait at 50 cents a copy. Many a Miami kid's wall is papered with Butch and Sundance.

"Jim and I became close friends, but it's been somewhat overdone," said Csonka, who was walking off the leftover hurts Monday from Miami's 21-0 playoff victory over Baltimore 24 hours earlier.

"We do both have our own lives. Our homes are 50 miles apart in south Florida. It's just that we enjoy each other's company and having a drink together."

Speaking of drinking:

"A couple of years ago, we were playing the Patriots in Boston," said Csonka. "Jim and I had some very nice after-dinner liqeur the night before. The field that day was drenched and all muddy. I told Kiick not to swallow any of that gook when he was tackled . . . he might ruin the taste of the nice booze."

The former Syracuse All-American had a less expensive birthday drink in Kansas City the day of pro football's longest game in history.

"I was 25 years old on Christmas day," said Csonka. "That's the day we beat the Chiefs 27-24 in two overtimes. Jim and I had a big celebration—we split a beer in our hotel room."

Czechoslovakia Upsets USSR For First Win

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Winless Czechoslovakia upset the powerful Russian world champions 6-1 Monday night in the final game of the first annual World Cup amateur hockey tournament.

The Russians had outscored the opposition 32-7 in winning their first three games, including an 8-3 decision over the Czechs in the first round of the double round-robin at Colorado Springs.

The Czechs finished with a 1-3 record. The U.S. team was 2-2, losing 11-1 and 13-3 to the Russians.

The Czechs struck for a 2-0 first period lead and made it 3-0 before Boris Mikahoilov's unassisted goal, with about six minutes left in the second period, gave the Russians their only score.

Goalie Miroslav Krasa, only 19, made 31 saves. Soviet goalie Vladislav Tretiak had 17 stops in the first period and finished with 40.

Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins was the only American Leaguer to drive in more than 100 runs in 1971. He drove in 119 runs.

Considering Majors

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Iowa State football Coach Johnny Majors is being considered for athletic director and head football coach at Rice University in Houston, Tex., it was reported here Monday.

He reportedly is among three top choices for the Rice post, and he is expected to be interviewed this week.

Rice officials are seeking a successor to Bill Peterson, now head coach of the Houston Oilers who resigned at Rice in December.

Majors was a coach in the North-South Shrine game here last week and attended the Nebraska-Alabama game in the Orange Bowl here over the New Year's weekend.

According to one source, the other prospects are Homer Rice, former head coach at Rice, former head coach at Cincinnati and now athletic director at North Carolina, and Barry Switzer, an assistant coach at Oklahoma.

Majors has been at Iowa State four years. Last season the Cyclones had one of their best records in the school's history, an 8-3 mark and their first bowl game. Majors was voted the Big Eight Conference Coach of the Year in 1971.

Special Call For Mayor

AYRSHIRE, Iowa (AP) — Jody Smith, 19, Monday became the nation's youngest mayor and received a telephone call from President Nixon.

But his mother described the 1971 honor graduate of Ayrshire high school as "just a common boy."

Smith was sworn in by town clerk C. A. Spitler shortly after he had talked with the president—a conversation in which the two apparently found something in common.

A liberal arts freshman at Iowa Lakes Community College at nearby Emmetsburg, Smith was only 18 when the 298 residents of this northeast Iowa community handed him their reins of government.

His election was made possible by a federal statute lowering the voting age for youths across the nation.

"I now have the power to marry others," Smith said, "but if I want to get married myself I must have my Dad's signature on the marriage license because I'm under 21."

Gov. Robert Ray was on hand for the swearing-in ceremony, and he asked America to take a look at Ayrshire.

"In a most dramatic fashion, you people of Ayrshire and your new mayor have laid to rest the old falsehood that young people can't find a place for leadership," the governor said.

"Ayrshire and similar communities all over Iowa are on the threshhold of a brave new future symbolized by Jody Smith's installation as a first citizen of this municipality."

Smith was waiting to be sworn in when his father dashed to the city hall to bring his son home. The president was on the phone.

"He knew I drive a school bus," Smith said of his talk with Nixon.

"And he asked me what else I do. I told him about my refereeing activities, and he asked if I participated in sports.

"I told him no, that I'm too clumsy, and he said that's funny because when he was in college he liked sports too, but he was too clumsy to play.

"He also knew that I work in my father's filling station, and he said he worked in a filling station when he was young too.

"He said that's a very good way to get to know lots of different kinds of people and find out what's on their minds."

Smith someday wants to be a city manager.

He was on the right path when he defeated eight-year incumbent Mayor E. B. Swanson, a retired farmer, 83 to 35, in the Nov. 2 municipal election.

Eight-eight per cent of the registered voters in Ayrshire turned out at the polls.

The young mayor's father, Elmer, said his son has always shown an interest in politics. "He just eats it up."

His mother said her son is "just a common boy who still lives at home and still has a number of duties around the house each day."

She said the new mayor did "a good job" of cleaning up his room and making his bed Monday morning before the start of the day's ceremonies.

As they waited for the swearing-in to begin, Mrs. Smith was nettled.

"Oh, Jody's the only one who didn't wear a coat," she whispered to her husband.

License Violation By Merchant

William Brown, city license and restaurant inspector, Monday signed a warrant for the arrest of Russell Thomas, 234 South Moniteau, operator of Russell Painting and Decorating. He was arrested Monday evening and placed in the city jail, charged with violating a city ordinance against operating a business in the city without a license.

The ordinance passed recently, which revamped business license regulations in the city, requires all contractors to have a license.

Russell is in the city jail in lieu of a $50 bond. He is to appear for trial in police court Friday.

Brown told The Democrat-Capital Monday night that although he has signed several warrants in such cases this is the first time a warrant has been served on an individual.

Brown said Russell's name was one of many he was given when he took over the position in August. Russell was than allegedly caught "on-the-job" without a license and given two weeks to get one, Brown said.

Another six-week grace period was granted while Russell tried to raise the money. A second warrant for his arrest was drawn up Monday following no word from the painter.

Brown said he believed the maximum fine for breaking the city ordinance was $100. The cost of Russell's license was set at $37.50, being pro-rated over approximately the last eight months of the fiscal year, June 1971 to June 1972.

Doris Day Radically Remodeled

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Doris Day Show" on CBS has been radically remodeled annually for four years now and "they"—as Miss Day refers to network executives ordering the changes—have finally gotten TV's Doris Martin into a character identical to those the actress played in all those light film comedies.

Miss Day now plays a bachelor girl who is a star reporter on a San Francisco-based magazine. She is bright, optimistic, winsome and even occasionally funny—in spite of the show's scripts.

A few weeks ago, Doris was a happy kidnap victim in some revolutionary Balkan state. This Monday night she was pretending to be a nurse in order to worm out of a stricken billionaire some story about economics.

Her boss this season, played by John Dehner, is a boisterous tyrant with a temper and bellow almost equally that of Gale Gordon, Lucy's boss on the preceding program. Miss Day's comedy style is quieter and more effective—or would be if she had better material.

"Here's Lucy" had Helen Hayes as a guest star. The distinguished actress seemed miscast as a little old lady staying with Lucille Ball as a house guest for a week. There was some far-fetched nonsense about a seance, mostly to give Lucy and Gale a chance to dress up as the ghosts of Josephine and Napoleon.

In spite of the talents of Miss Hayes and Miss Ball, the half hour was definitely lesser Lucy.

Dean Martin is now officially among television's superstars: He has his own pro-am golf tournament, the Dean Martin Tucson Open, which NBC will televise the weekend of Jan 22.

Martin joins the select company that includes Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Glen Campbell, Andy Williams, Danny Thomas and Jackie Gleason. Each sponsors a charity benefit tournament.

The device of naming a tournament for a well-known star works well for all concerned. The big star is honored and gives the tournament some clout in persuading other celebrities to play. The presence of celebrities attracts television coverage and larger galleries.

Fund Is Started For Kansas Girl

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — More than $500 has been collected in a fund for Cheryl Barnes, the 15-year-old Harper, Kan., girl awaiting a kidney transplant.

Cheryl underwent surgery Wednesday at the University of Kansas Medical Center for removal of both kidneys. She is to receive the transplant when she is physically strong enough.

A married sister and her brother, George, 20 are considered the best donor prospects. However, if George is chosen a 100-year-old law prohibiting him from entering into a legal contract must be waived.

A hearing in the matter has been set for Jan. 13 in the Harper County District Court.

Dress Code Suit Filed Over Hair

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A suit was filed Monday in Johnson County District Court challenging the constitutionality of the dress code in Southeast Johnson County school district 229.

Later Monday, Judge Herbert W. Walton issued a temporary restraining order to allow Jeffrey Davis, 7, Overland Park, to attend school without having his hair cut.

The chief civil deputy for Johnson County, Clarence Brunk, said the order will be served today to Sam Bliss, principal of North Oxford School in Overland Park.

The lad's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herald Davis, were warned by Bliss that Jeffrey would be suspended if he returned to school after Christmas vacation with hair covering his ears. A dress code set by district 229 school board prohibits male students from wearing hair that covers their ears, hangs below their eyebrows or covers their collar.

Automatic Payment Plan Is Arranged

HELENA Mont. (AP) — The Montana Democratic Central Committee has come up with an automatic payment plan for supporters of the party.

Under the plan, a contributors will be asked to fill in the amount, sign on the line and let his banker deduct his contributions from his checking account.

The "Montana Demo-matic Plan" is similar to the automactic bank-draft system already in use by various companies, party officials said.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL INCOME PLAN PAYS YOU THESE "NO AGE LIMIT" TAX-FREE CASH BENEFITS.

PAYS CASH . . . up to $10,000.00 is paid to you for each accident or illness, starting with your very first day in the hospital, at the rate of $100.00-a-week while under age 65.

PAYS CASH . . . up to $10,000.00 is paid to your spouse, or paid to you if you are 65 or over, for each accident or illness, starting with the very first day in the hospital, at the rate of $75.00-a-week.

PAYS CASH . . . up to $10,000.00 is paid for each accident or illness when one of your covered children is hospitalized, at the rate of $50.00-a-week.

PAYS CASH . . . directly to you — not to the doctor or hospital. Of course, if you want us to pay your doctor or your hospital directly, we will also do that. It's your cash to spend anyway you choose!

PAYS CASH . . . in addition to any other coverage you might have . . . individual . . . company . . . workmen's compensation . . . even Medicare!

PAYS . . . your premium for you in the unfortunate event you find yourself confined to the Hospital for a lengthy stay. That's right, after the first eight weeks of such confinement any premiums which fall due on your account will be paid for you by us during the rest of the time you're in the hospital.

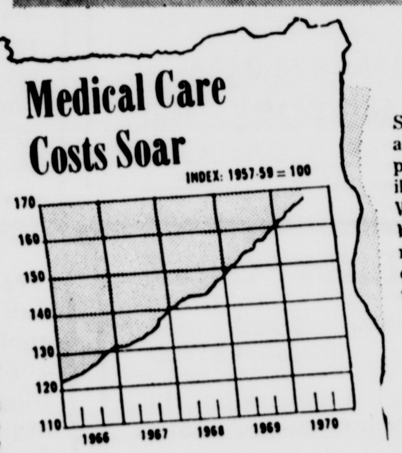
WASHINGTON: Medical care costs took another jump in July, 1971-up to 176.8% of the 1957-59 average according to the Government's Consumer Price Index. Hospital costs have risen nearly 700% since 1945. The American Hospital Association has reported that these costs rose 17.3% during 1969 alone. At the National Health Insurance Conference it was reported that a Senate Sub-committee is gravely concerned over the prediction that hospital costs will reach $1,000 per-patient-per-day by 1980. Today, even a short hospital stay can cause a financial disaster.

MEDICARE PATIENTS MUST PAY MORE

The Social Security Administration has again increased the amount of money senior citizens must pay out of their own pockets for hospital care. Effective January 1, 1972, the initial amount Medicare patients must pay when admitted to a hospital is $68.

At the beginning of this program, folks covered by Medicare only had to pay the first $40; this was raised to $44 in 1969, $52 in 1970, $60 in 1971, and now to $68 in 1972.

That's not all ... starting in 1972, Medicare patients with basic accommodations will have to pay $17 a day from the 61st through the 90th day of hospital confinement. This was raised from $15 in 1970, and it was only $10 when the program started.



Medicare provides patients with a 60 day lifetime reserve which can be used after 90 days of hospitalization, but in 1972, the amount they must pay during this period has also been increased ... it will now be $34 a day which is a sharp contrast to the daily charge of $20 back in 1967.

There seems to be an ever widening gap between Medicare coverage, skyrocketing hospital costs and the senior citizen's fixed income.

Sit Back and Think For A Moment

Suppose you, the head of the family and the one on whom everyone depends, are suddenly struck down by illness or accident and hospitalized! What then? Your income is cut off, or at best drastically reduced; expenses skyrocket. Where can you turn for the kind of cash it takes to help carry the load while you are in the hospital.

What About Your Wife?

If your wife were hospitalized, things would really fall apart, wouldn't they? You couldn't stay at home and care for things, that's for sure! Your income would be needed more than ever! Certainly the children would have to be cared for. And who would do the laundry, shopping and cleaning? Such items don't usually figure in your budget, but in an emergency they call for extra cash in a hurry!

You Want the Best For Your Children

When it comes to hospital care for them, the sky's the limit! You'd never stop to count the cost; but you just might have to without that "cash cushion" we're talking about!

Even Chronic Illnesses Are Covered

Have you ever suffered from ailments that are likely to occur again and again and again? WE WILL INSURE YOU RIGHT NOW—and we will cover you for these chronic or pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for just twenty-four months. Of course, you are covered right from the Effective Date of your Plan for all accidents and all new sicknesses.

If You Are Age 65 or Over

You are well aware of what the high cost of living is doing to fixed incomes and pensions. As helpful as Medicare is, it just won't, CAN'T, cover everything. Nor was it intended to! The fact remains that certain expenses due to illness involving hospitalization can be met ONLY by CASH. When illness strikes, your lifetime savings can disappear overnight. To protect your savings, you'd be wise to enroll now in this American tax-free cash Plan! Maintaining your financial independence is vital—and something to be proud of. Don't lose yours! We have developed this plan especially to give you the best coverage for the lowest possible premium.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

We will mail your American Policy as soon as we receive your Enrollment Form. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. You can show it to someone you trust, your banker, lawyer or accountant. Or better still, show it to your own insurance man. Then if you decide, for any reason, that you do not want to continue as a member of this plan, just return the policy to us within 15 days, and we will refund your money promptly. Meanwhile, you will be protected fully while making your decision!

PRESIDENT

How Can We Offer So Much For So Little?

Because we pass our savings on to you. We enroll many, many folks at one time, so we can keep our processing costs to a bare minimum. This is why your first month's protection costs you only 25¢! And it is also the reason why you must mail your Enrollment Form before midnight, Saturday.

Select the Plan that's best for you

That's right, you choose the plan that fits your needs best. And remember, your first month's premium in only 25¢ regardless of the plan you choose! American . . . the best in protection for you and your loved ones.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Q. What is the American Hospital Income Plan? GP 651-70
A. It's a low cost hospital plan, with many needed and important features.

Q. When do my hospital benefits begin?
A. On the very first day you go to the hospital.

Q. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
A. $100 per week for you (while under age 65) $75 per week for your spouse and covered persons age 65 or over $50 per week for each eligible child

Q. Will this Plan pay in addition to my other insurance?
A. Absolutely! We pay—TAX-FREE CASH—whether you are insured in a group, individually, or even under Medicare. We'll pay even if you are covered by Workmen's Compensation!

Q. What do I need to do to qualify?
A. Just complete and mail your Enrollment Form by Midnight, Saturday. It's that easy!

Q. Can I enroll even if I am 65 or over?
A. Certainly. Everyone is welcome—at any age!

Q. How can you offer so many benefits for so little premium?
A. When we enroll a large number of people at the same time, our processing and administrative costs are much less. All these savings come back to you in the form of low, low rates!

Q. Can I cancel my policy?
A. Of course you can!

Q. Will you cancel my policy if I have too many claims?
A. No. We guarantee never to cancel your policy because of too many claims, or because of advanced age. We also guarantee that we will never refuse to renew your policy unless the premium has not been paid before the end of the grace period.

Q. Will my rates be raised because I grow older?
A. Never . . . regardless of how long you keep your policy or how old you grow. Premiums can only be raised or lowered if there is a general rate adjustment for all policies of this form in your entire state.

Q. Is anything excluded from coverage?
A. Just these few reasonable exceptions: War, mental disorders & pregnancy. Of course, rest cures, intoxication and dental treatments are not included. Illnesses caused by narcotics administered on the advice of a Doctor of Medicine are covered.

Q. What about an illness I may have had before my enrollment and which may come back?
A. After your policy has been in force for just 24 months you will be fully covered for such illness. This is another quality feature of this unique Plan.

Q. Why should I enroll right now?
A. This is a limited time offer and this enrollment closes on the date shown above. In order to guarantee acceptance of your application you must mail the enrollment form before midnight, Saturday.
We will issue you this guaranteed renewable cash hospital income plan as soon as we receive your enrollment form.
Examine it for 15 days in your own home. Then, if you are not 100% satisfied, if you feel this is not the protection you need for yourself and your loved ones, just return the policy to us within 15 days and we will refund your money promptly. Meanwhile, you will be fully protected while making your decision.
